

Call for poetry competition 'Where am I at home'

This year, Huis73's poetry competition is all about feeling at home somewhere! We are calling all writers to write a poem on the theme 'Where am I at home?' and submit your work to us.

Do you like to be creative with language? Are you a poet through and through? Or do you just want to express your feelings on this topic? Then join us!

Jury

A professional jury will judge the poems and choose the winners. These will be announced on Saturday, September 28 during the poetry festival ZIN AAN! There is a prize for the best Dutch poem and a prize for the best foreign poem.

What can you win?

First of all, the winners have the honor of winning. Furthermore, the winning poems receive extra attention by the authors being named in the VerhalenAtelier's Gallery of Fame. In addition, the winners receive a free library subscription for one year and can participate in all activities of the VerhalenAtelier. They also can choose a Huis73 course of their choice.

Participate

Write a poem in the shape of a house, maximum 65 words in the theme, 'Where am I at home?', in a language of your choice (see the choice of languages below). Send the poem as a PDF file together with your name and address before Sunday, September 8th to: verhalenatelier@huis73.nl. Use the heading, 'Where am I at home?'.

We look forward to receiving your submission!
